Lily Sloan became involved in FFA through her freshman ag class. From the moment she stepped into the room, she knew she wanted to be a part of FFA. Over time, her experiences in the organization have helped them grow in areas such as leadership, public speaking and helped her discover a passion for the cattle industry.

"FFA has been more than a club, it is a family I am forever grateful for all the people I've met through out my FFA journey.," Sloan shared.

Throughout their FFA journey, Lily has had the opportunity to participate in livestock judging, national and state conventions, being a chapter officer and being a part of many FFA events. These opportunities have shaped her passion for agriculture and leadership.

As a State Officer, she hopes to inspire members to find their passion whether it's in agriculture or not.

"Don't ever be afraid to follow your dreams and reach for the impossible."
