Career Development Event Collaborative Charter

Background

Indiana 4-H Youth Development and Indiana FFA have a long-standing history of partnering together to provide 4-H and FFA members with educational opportunities utilizing competitive career development events. These competitive educational events, more commonly known as Ag judging contests, are conducted at the county, Area/regional, and state levels with Area/regional being defined as Purdue Extension regions corresponding with the Area/regional map.

Purpose of Group

The purpose of the State Ag Judging Committee is to develop policies and procedures for each contest, provided these policies and procedures do not conflict with Indiana 4-H Youth Development or Indiana FFA overlying policies and procedures. It is important to note that this group serves in advisory capacity to both the Indiana 4-H Youth Development and Indiana FFA programs.

Committee Membership

Membership of the State Ag Judging Committee will be comprised of Purdue Extension 4-H Youth Development Specialists in the State 4-H Office, Purdue Extension Educators, Indiana Agriculture Science and Business teachers/FFA Advisors, the Indiana FFA Executive Director and Assistant Directors, and the Purdue Extension 4-H Youth Development Program Leader.

Voting Members – The following committee members shall have voting privileges:

- 4-H Youth Development Specialists in the State 4-H Office responsible for state contests
- Indiana FFA Assistant Directors in the Indiana Department of Agriculture responsible for state contests
- One Extension Educator from each Purdue Extension region
- One Agriculture Science and Business teacher/FFA Advisor from each Purdue Extension region

Ex Officio Members

- Indiana FFA Executive Director, or their designee
- 4-H Youth Development Program Leader, or their designee

Meeting Attendance

Meetings will be in September and March. All meetings are open to the public, in particular any coach, contestant, or person with an interest in the Ag judging contests.

Quorum

A quorum consists of all voting members in attendance at the state meeting.

Voting procedure

Items that come up between meetings can be decided by an electronic vote of the committee.

Length of Term

The 4-H Youth Development Specialists serving on this committee will be appointed annually by the 4-H Program Leader. The Extension Educators and Agriculture Science and Business Teachers/FFA Advisors will be elected/appointed by their respective colleagues within their Purdue Extension Area/regional and will serve a two-year term. Even numbered Area/regionals will be elected/appointed in even years and odd numbered in odd years.

Rule Change Deadlines

Effective Date	State Contest Dates	Discussion & Approval
January 1	January 1-June 30	Annual September meeting
July 1	July 1-December 31	Annual March meeting

Committee Structure

A Chair (or Co-Chairs), Vice Chair, and Secretary will be elected from the voting membership by the voting members, with each serving a term of one-year.

- The Chair, or Co-Chairs will be responsible for running the meetings in an orderly fashion and ensuring effective communication among committee members.
- The Vice Chair will run the meetings in the absence of the Chair and will assist the Chair as needed. While it is not mandatory, it is suggested that the Vice Chair assume the Chair position at the end of the term.
- The Secretary is responsible for documenting the business conducted at each meeting and sharing the minutes with committee members in a timely manner. A copy of the meeting minutes will be kept in each office of the 4-H Program Leader and the Indiana FFA Executive Director.

Election of the Chair, or Co-Chairs, Vice Chair, and Secretary will occur annually at the September meeting. Additional meetings may be deemed necessary by the Chair, or Co-Chairs, 4-H Program Leader, FFA Executive Director, or FFA Assistant Director.

Agendas for the annual meeting must be distributed ahead of the proposed meeting date.

While it is ideal that business items be accepted through consensus, it may not always happen. In that case, business items will be carried forward and adopted with a majority vote in the affirmative.

Sub-Committees

Each state contest will have a sub-committee that will be responsible for managing, evaluating, and visioning for that contest. Each state contest committee will be chaired by the 4-H Youth Development Specialist & FFA Assistant Director responsible for that contest. It is suggested that the contest committee consist of both Extension Educators and Agriculture Science and Business teachers. Subcommittee members do not have to be state committee members. Each subcommittee should present an estimated budget for that contest at the bi-annual meetings. Subcommittees are:

Crops	Dairy Cattle	Milk Quality & Products	Entomology
Forestry	Horse & Pony	Horticulture	Livestock Skillathon
Livestock	Meat Evaluation	Poultry & Eggs	Soils
Wildlife Habitat Education	Handbook	Professional Development	-----

Other ad hoc committees may be appointed as needed by the Chair or Co-Chair.

Committee Expectations & Rules

- A. Committee members will attend all meetings. If they are unable to attend, they will send an appropriate designee. Notify the chair of the designee if possible.
- B. Treat each other and the organizations represented in the meeting with respect at all times and put personal differences aside in the interest of a productive and successful meeting.
- C. Stick to the topics on the meeting agenda; be concise and not repetitive.

Changes to This Collaborative Charter

This collaborative charter may be amended at any time with a majority vote in the affirmative during a scheduled meeting of this committee. Proposed amendments to this collaborative charter must be submitted to the Chair at least 30 days prior to the meeting and must be included in the agenda distributed to the voting members. This agenda must be distributed at least 14 days prior to the meeting.

Progression

A. Area/regional Event

1. Area/regional rules may be developed to provide for flexibility and unique Area/regional needs, but final selection of the representatives (winners) to the state contest must qualify under the state guidelines.
2. Supervised by a Area/regional meeting of Extension Educators and coaches who plan and develop the event.

B. State Event

1. State guidelines are published in 4-H 98, the 4-H/FFA Ag CDE Handbook.
2. Supervised by the State 4-H/FFA Ag CDE Committee.

C. National Event

1. National rules are written for each individual event, and are unique to that particular event and are supervised by a national event committee.
2. An individual may enter a national 4-H competitive event in a specific program region only once, except in the case of exhibits. Participating members of a team entry are ineligible to enter the same event again as a part of another team.
3. Eligibility requirements are determined by the national event. It is the coach's responsibility to ensure all contestants are eligible.
4. In the event no 4-H team can be fielded for the national contest from the teams that placed at the respective state contest, the state extension specialist in charge of the state CDE contest can put together an all-state team of individuals so that Indiana can have representation at a National Contest. This is ONLY to be used when no Indiana representative can be fielded for the national CDE contest from the teams who attended the respective state contest in that year.

3. Each team may be allowed to add (if originally a team of 3) or substitute one member from the Area/regional contest to the state contest and one member from the state contest to the national contest. Please send this information as soon as possible (via phone or e-mail) to facilitate state contest registration.
4. Substitutes must meet all other state guidelines including being from the same local organization.
5. Substitutes may or may not have competed in the county or Area/regional event.

Team and individual registration for non-qualifying state competitive events received after the registration deadline will pay double the registration fee.

- A. The state Junior contests are not divided (4-H/FFA). Therefore, only 2 teams advance to the state contest.
- B. The top 6 “Non-Masters” teams from each Area/regional contest, plus any “Master” teams who place in the top 6 overall at the Area/regional contest. An additional team may be added to the number advancing for each team from that Area/regional that qualified for the national event the prior year. No entity (FFA Chapter or 4-H group) shall advance more than 2 senior FFA teams and 2 senior 4-H teams from the Area/regional to the state contest.
- C. Wildlife: The top 3 teams from each qualifying Area/regional contest (North, Central, & South), plus the next 3 high scoring teams, for a maximum of 12 teams.
- D. Each team representing a Area/regional must have participated in their respective Area/regional CDE contest by having fully completed the CDE of all classes.
 - i. If a Area/regional contest included both 4-H and FFA teams, but both divisions were not represented by the teams qualifying for the state contest, the Area/regional chairperson may add an additional state qualifying team to represent the missing division (4-H or FFA).
 - ii. For State Horticulture, Horse and Pony, Meat, Milk Quality, and Poultry CDEs, the state events are invitational. Refer to respective contest rules for division designations and number of eligible teams.

Individuals

1. The top five participants in the junior and senior categories at the Area/regional contest may participate as individuals at the state contest, as long as the state contest offers a junior division. For those state contests that only offer a senior division, only the top five individuals (from the junior and senior divisions combined at the Area/regional level) from each Area/regional contest will qualify for the state contest, in addition to the state qualifying teams.
 - Livestock Skillathon & Wildlife are team based events. Only teams will advance and no individuals will advance.
2. The top 5 individuals will qualify for the state contest even if they are not on a qualifying team. If the senior division of the Area/regional event includes both 4-H and FFA contestants, the top 5 contestants overall will qualify. If either 4-H or FFA is not represented in the top 5, then the highest placing individual from the one not represented in the top 5 would also qualify for the state contest.
3. If there is a junior division at the state contest, then the top five junior individuals from each Area/regional contest may participate at the state contest, regardless of whether the top five individuals includes both 4-H and FFA members.

Eligibility

1. The division is defined as either 4-H or FFA. Some events include a Junior Division. At the time of the Area/regional or state contest FFA contestants must be a current active FFA member and 4-H contestants must be currently enrolled in Indiana 4-H. The Indiana 4-H program year is October 1-September 30. FFA Membership is from August 1-July 31. See 4-H enrollment policy regarding CDE participation below.
2. Senior individuals (not on teams) and all junior contestants may return in the same contest and/or division in subsequent years, regardless of their placing in the state contest.
4. Any contestant (excluding those on 4-H and FFA Soils teams) who has represented Indiana at the designated National Contest is ineligible to compete again on a team in the same division of that same contest at the Area/regional or state level, but may compete in the other division (4-H or FFA) in future years. These individuals may also compete in other 4-H/FFA CDE contests available in their Area/regional.
5. The following rules apply to previous winning soils CDE individuals and teams:
 - An individual (4-H or FFA) who has participated in the National Land CDE contest will be designated as a “master soil judge.”
 - Any team with a “master soil judge” will be designated a “master soil CDE team”. The team will retain the “master team” designation for the entire CDE season, no matter what individuals are substituted on or off of the team.
 - Masters teams can compete in the same division (4-H or FFA) more than one time.
 - ALL masters’ teams are ineligible for the National Land CDE Contest in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. They can compete in the Homesite Division only of the National Land CDE.
6. Members of state winning teams will have a standing invitation to compete as individuals in the same division of the same contest at future state CDE events, provided they meet the grade requirements for their respective division. These individuals will not be required to qualify at Area/regional contests but they must be entered for state competition through the Area/regional chairperson.
7. If the alternate contestant on a state 4-H or FFA team does not judge at the national 4-H or FFA event, that individual may repeat in the same division of that state event in subsequent years, provided the contestant meets all other event requirements.
8. In those categories where there is not a recognized national event, previous winning teams may return for competition provided the contestants meet all other event requirements.

2. A team or an individual may register in only one county for a specific career development activity.
3. Area/regional teams and individuals must be certified by the Extension person representing the region on the State Ag. CDE Committee, in order to be eligible for the Area/regional and state contest.
4. In determining the correct Extension area/region for FFA teams or 4-H teams originating from a school, the location of the administration office of the school corporation will determine the Area/regional in which the team will judge. Online learning schools will be determined by their home-based county designation.
5. In all CDE contests, a team will consist of three or four members. The highest three scores will make up the team score. The team member with the fourth or lowest score will be considered the alternate member.
6. All contestants must be enrolled in FFA or 4-H at the time of the respective CDE for the division in which they are competing. FFA and 4-H members cannot participate in any county, Area/regional, or state contest after September 1 following high school graduation. For exception, see 4-H Program Policies and Procedures.
7. 4-H or FFA members who have participated in any formal post-secondary training in CDE are not eligible for the Area/regional or state Ag CDE events

4-H Enrollment Policy Regarding CDE Participation

The Indiana 4-H Youth Development Program year is October 1 – September 30, annually. Enrollment is for a period of one program year. Youth must enroll/re-enroll annually. Adult volunteers, including those coaching a 4-H CDE team or individual, must enroll/re-enroll annually and be approved by their county 4-H Youth Development Educator.

With soils, horticulture, livestock skillathon, contests occurring at the end of one 4-H program year and beginning the next youth and coaches competing in the 4-H division must show active membership in the year that is just ending. All coaches will need to be a volunteer. If not an approved coach, please contact your county extension office. This statement does not apply to a 4-H coach who's county 4-H Youth Development Educator has provided notification their volunteer appointment has been terminated or will not be renewed.

For all other contests youth and coaches competing in the 4-H division must be in active or pending status by submitting enrollment electronically through 4HOnline or paper through their county office, prior to the contest day.

Technically, if a team competes at the Area/regional event and it is discovered after the event that one member of that team was not enrolled in 4-H, then that team should be disqualified because all members of that team did not meet 4-H team eligibility requirements. Likewise, if an ag teacher has someone competing on an FFA team that is not on their FFA membership roster, then that FFA team should be disqualified. If the coach of a 4-H team is not an approved 4-H volunteer, then that team should also be disqualified.

Payment/Cancellation/Late Fee Policy – Effective September 7, 2022

Payment	Checks are made payable to Purdue University. Payment is expected day of contest. A school purchase order can be presented or notification that a check is coming will suffice. Receipts will be available to all who desire written documentation for payment of registration fees. Coaches are expected to pay for the number of contestants they enter. Coaches who do not pay for all entries will receive a statement of amount due from the State 4-H Office, and will need to clear their account before entering another team in a State CDE Event.
Cancellation	The state and Area/regional contest coordinator will provide a registration confirmation to coaches as soon as possible following the registration deadline or last Area/regional qualifying event, along with a deadline to submit changes or cancellations. After this time, substitutions will be allowed day of contest as outlined in the state ag judging handbook and payment in full will be required for all registered participants.

Late Fee Policy	A $25.00 late fee will be assessed to any school or 4-H club failing to submit full payment within 30 days following the contest. Any school or 4-H club with an outstanding balance due 60 days after the contest will not be allowed to register for any further state career development events until their outstanding balance has been paid in full. Each region is subject to their own policies for registration fees and penalties.

Coach Certification
4-H Coach	FFA Coach/Teachers as Coaches
4-H policy requires that all adults working with and training youth enrolled in 4-H must be an official, approved 4-H volunteer in the county in which that adult is working with the youth, in the county of membership for those youth on a yearly basis. This includes 4-H coaches of CDE contests. To become an official 4-H volunteer the adult must contact their local 4-H county extension office. If a 4-H unit/school spans across multiple counties, then the adult volunteer/coach must be approved as a 4-H adult volunteer in one of those counties. Any person who is not already an official 4-H volunteer and wishes to coach a 4-H team in any of the CDE contests should contact their county Extension Educator and request information about the 4-H Adult Volunteer application and screening process. Coaches of 4-H teams that cannot be verified as being an approved 4-H adult volunteer will not be able to participate in the Area/regional and state CDE contests and the team will be disqualified.	We know that school teachers have gone through a screening process most likely through their school; however, this process is not on our records and may not comply with the adult volunteer screening process as adopted by Purdue University's Board of Trustees. Even when a school teacher is working with 4-H members as part of their regular school assignment, it is important for everyone to understand that they are essentially working in a dual role when designating their judging team as 4-H. When this happens, that teacher/coach is not only complying with their school policies and procedures, but also the policies and procedures of Indiana 4-H and Purdue University. It is required that all coaches and chaperones (including parents), must fill out and pass the state and national sex offender check completed by the region Ag Judging Committee representative.

Importance of Career Development Event Participation

Success in any field depends to a great degree on one's ability to make the right decision at the right time. The opportunities offered through Indiana's 4-H/FFA Career Development Events (CDEs) contribute to a young person's success by teaching them decision making skills and content matter knowledge.

Making decisions: Participants are taught to make decisions, based upon sound educational principles. These principles form the basis for applying judgment in the decision-making process as a life skill. Evaluation forces one to make choices. Through continued practice, youth find that CDEs train the mind in sound reasoning. In a similar manner, CDEs train youth to apply principles in the process of making choices.

Applying content matter knowledge: Youth study a variety of disciplines including: agronomy, animal science, engineering and technology, entomology, forestry and natural resources, food science and horticulture. By comparing strengths and weaknesses youth experience a thought process that requires their evaluation of multiple dimensions to arrive at a logical decision. There is no substitute for a mind trained to see all sides of a problem or an opportunity.

Being objective: A CDE experience teaches an individual the value of using principles. The experience gained in using acceptable principles in the appraisal of the differences between class specimens is at the very heart of the CDE experience.

The values of participating in 4-H/FFA CDEs include:

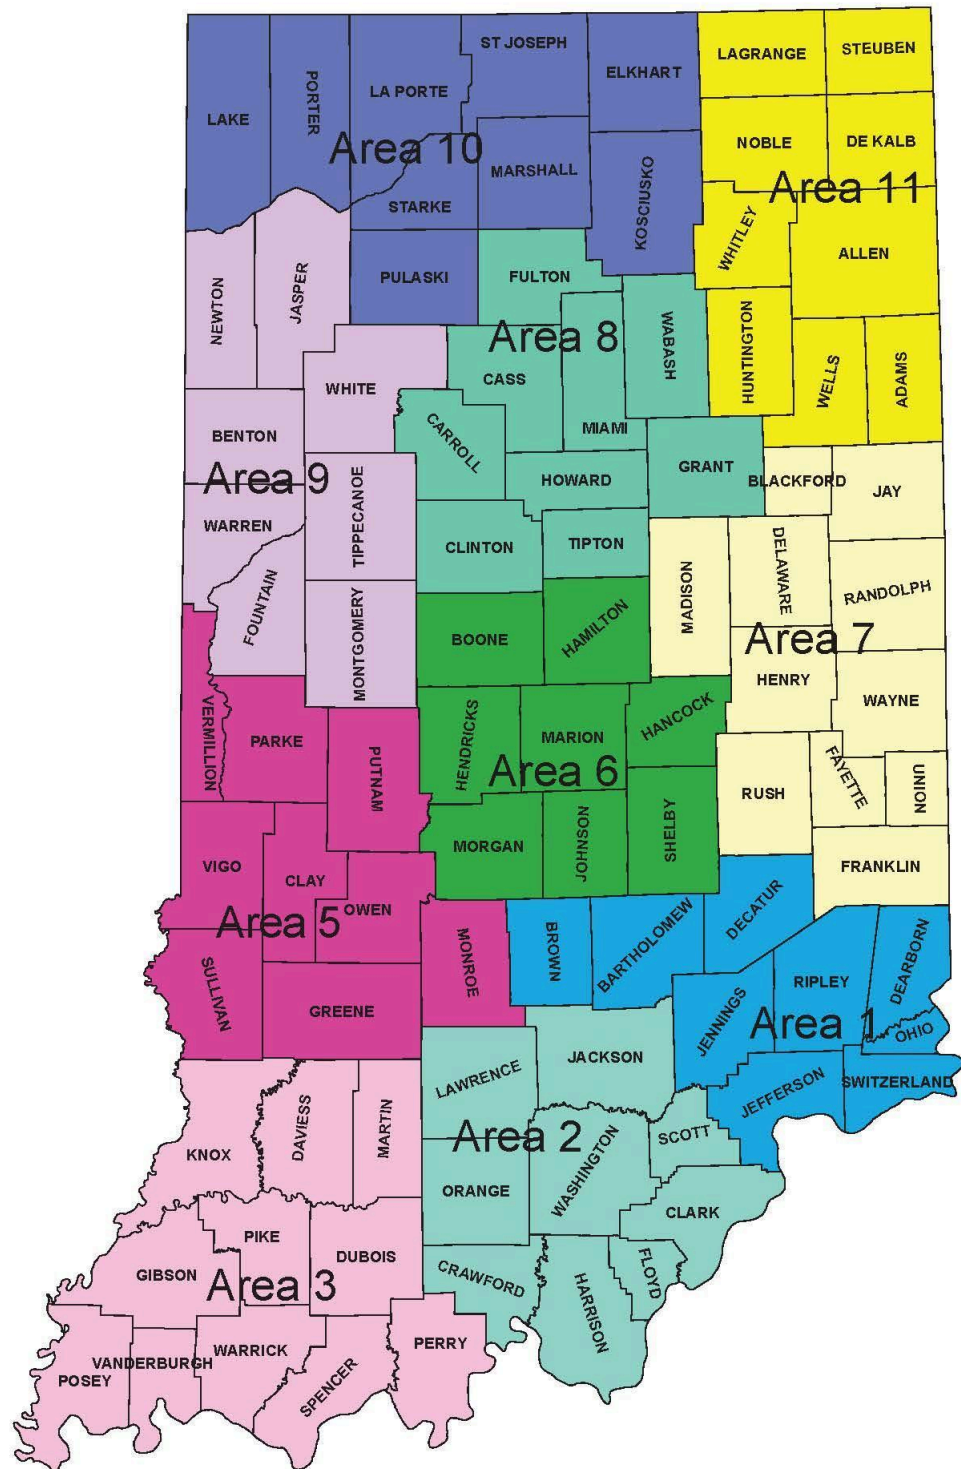

1. Learning to evaluate traits of economic importance and making sound, logical decisions.
2. Learning to accurately describe and compare animals, specimens, samples, land sites, etc., with proper and accepted terminology.
3. Learning to establish and defend conclusions.
4. Learning to speak and present ideas in a convincing manner.
5. Stimulating interest in agricultural commodities.

6. Improving the power of observation and memory development.
7. Building personal confidence and promoting team spirit.
8. Contributes to development of positive leadership skills.
9. Develops inquiring minds and teaches decision-making through real life participation.
10. Creates a positive impact on career decision making and major areas of study.

The skills of observation, analysis and communication are lifelong. Contestants in these career development events enjoy fellowship, fun, teamwork and the competitive spirit generated through a CDE experience.

CDEs are a natural for volunteers and for young people. Pick a subject, train a team and join in on the action of helping tomorrow's leaders today! The Indiana career development events continue to grow and to prosper through teamwork, competition and the educational philosophy that "Judging is a method of teaching and a positive way of learning."
