Kaitlyn Maruszewski became involved in FFA her freshman year of high school when her school gained their agriculture program. Kaitlyn was encouraged to take an agriculture class by her mom and quickly became very passionate about the industry and FFA organization. Over time, her experiences in the organization have helped her grow in areas such as leadership, teamwork, personal development, and perseverance.

"FFA has given me a second family, developed my passions, and helped me grow into the person I am today," Maruszewski shared.

Throughout her FFA journey, Kaitlyn has had the opportunity to participate in events, explore career interests, serve in leadership roles, and connect with other FFA members from across the nation. These opportunities have shaped her passion for agriculture, leadership, and personal growth.

As a State Officer, she hopes to inspire members to step outside of their comfort zone and be ambitious during their FFA journeys.

"Everyone has the ability to create opportunities for themselves. Sometimes three simple letters can change your life: YES."
